A little bit about Buster...

Buster is a lovely boy who came to the centre as sadly his previous owner became unwell and could no longer keep him. Buster is a young, active and happy go lucky kind of guy who just lives life to the max, he is looking for a family who is after a cheeky chappy kind of dog. He has the most amazing smile and can make you smile no matter what kind of day you are having. Now Buster could do with some further training as he can get a little over excited and forget his manners, he will make an ideal addition to a family who are interested in training and helping him learn new things. Buster is sociable with other dogs but soon loses interest and is happy to do his own thing. Buster will make the family lucky enough to adopt him a really wonderful friend. Buster has come on ever so much since he first arrived here at the centre and he has waited patiently while he has seen lots of other dogs come and go to their new homes. Buster can live with another compatible dog after a successful introduction at the centre.

My personality...
