A little bit about Coconut...

Coconut is the sweetest little kitten who came to the centre with a badly damaged leg, even after receiving medical treatment unfortunately her leg was too badly damaged to be saved so had to be amputated. Little Coconut has faced all this head on and not complained once, she has taken it all in her stride and remained a happy contented kitten throughout. Coconut really has the most amazing character, as soon as she sees you her engines start running and has the the cutest purr ever. She is still adapting to life on three legs but she really is doing ever so well, she is now ready to start her new life with a new family who will love her unconditionally . To think someone abandoned her when she needed them the most is terrible. She now has a bright future to look forward to with no looking back. Coconut is suitable to live with other cats, children aged 8 years and over and will need to be a permanent house cat.
