A little bit about Minx...

Minx came to the centre as her previous devoted owner became unwell and could sadly no longer look after her. She is a very sweet girl who loves being the centre of attention, she loves a fuss and a cuddle but also likes to be out and about doing stuff. Minx is a busy little bee and likes to be kept both mentally and physically stimulated, she will need adopters who can give her things to do to keep her mind going. She is a bright little girl who loves to be around her people learning things as she goes along. Minx will need an experienced owner as she is not suitable for a first time dog owner. Minx is fully housetrained and will make a super little pet for someone. Minx will need to be the only pet and can live with children aged 10 years and over.
