A little bit about Buddie...

Buddie came to the centre via the stray dog service. He is a really sweet natured boy who just loves to be around his people, he is very happy and sociable and loves meeting people and other dogs when out and about. Buddie does love to be out and about but does not need a vast amount of exercise. He loves to snuggle up with you and would love to share the sofa on those cold dark nights watching tv. In true bulldog style, if Buddie does want to go for a walk he will just put the brakes on and demand to go back home where it is nice, warm and cosy. Buddie will make the people lucky enough to adopt him the most wonderful addition to the family. Buddie is very sociable with other dogs and can live with another dog after a successful introduction at the centre, he is suitable to live with children aged 10 years and over.
