A little bit about Willow...

Please read all about Willow before applying Meet Willow Willow was found with her 3 newborn kittens in a tiny, packed shed. It was incredibly unsafe. Thankfully, a kind lady spotted them and contacted us straight away. Understandably, Willow was terrified of people. But since arriving, she has made some amazing progress! She now comes to the front of her pen, is happy for us to be nearby and has even started taking Lick-e-Lix from us — a HUGE step for her! Now her kittens are of to their forever homes, it's Willow's turn. But she needs a very special home. Ideally, we're looking for an experienced, patient home willing to build her trust and confidence at her own pace. Watching a scared cat's personality slowly blossom can be incredibly rewarding. But with understanding that changes don't happen overnight or within a week! We will also consider a suitable rural/feral farm or stable home, provided Willow has daily food, care, veterinary treatment and the opportunity to come indoors. Willow isn't a feral cat — she's a scared cat who has been let down by humans before. Cattery life can be incredibly stressful for nervous cats, so let's give Willow the chance to finally feel safe, loved and at home. Ideal Home; ADULT ONLY Home (unless you have experience calm children that will respect her space) Access to the outdoors when she's ready Could live with cat savvy dogs Could live with other cats Needs patience and understanding Medical information; Fully Vaccinated Microchipped Neutered Fiv/felv tested (negative) Fully veterinary health check Up to date with flea and wormer Could you be her forever family?
