A little bit about Kaizer...

Kaizer is a very nervous boy who has had a difficult start to life. Rescued from appalling conditions, he arrived in our care extremely thin, dirty and in generally poor condition. He has clearly not had the easiest beginning, and now it is time for him to discover just how wonderful life can be. Kaizer will need very special adopters who are patient, understanding and willing to give him the time and reassurance he needs to build his confidence. His new family will play an important role in helping him overcome his insecurities, learn to feel safe and settle into a home environment. Most importantly, they will need to show him the joys of life and what it truly means to be part of a loving family. There are already some lovely little things that make Kaizer happy! He absolutely loves his toys, and his tennis ball is by far his favourite. He can also be a little fussy when it comes to treats, but once you discover the ones he really loves, you've found the key to his heart! He will do just about anything for his favourite rewards, which makes training much easier, enjoyable and a great way to build his confidence and bond with him. Finding the right home for Kaizer will be a gradual process. His adopters must be willing to commit to multiple visits and meets at the centre before adoption. They will also have the opportunity to spend time with our centre's behaviourist, who can offer advice and guidance to help make his transition into a new home as positive as possible. One thing Kaizer absolutely loves is other dogs! He is excellent in their company, and we feel he would really benefit from living with an existing confident, friendly dog who is already settled in the home. Having a canine companion to show him the ropes could make a huge difference to his confidence and help him navigate his new world. Kaizer may need a little extra time and understanding, but for the right people, helping him discover happiness, security and love will be incredibly rewarding. He has already been through so much. Now he deserves the chance to leave his past behind and finally know what it feels like to be safe, cherished and loved. Could you be the family to give Kaizer the fresh start he so desperately deserves?
