A little bit about Jonty...

Meet Jonty – A Gentle Soul Looking for His Forever Retirement Home Poor Jonty was found abandoned by his owner, and through no fault of his own, this lovely boy now finds himself looking for a new place to call home. Jonty is an absolute sweetheart with a heart of gold. He is a kind, gentle soul who simply loves being around his people. His favourite place is right beside you, enjoying cuddles, attention and all the love you have to give. He walks nicely on the lead and doesn't ask for too much exercise. Jonty is much more of a leisurely stroll followed by a cosy afternoon on the sofa kind of chap! He dreams of a comfy bed, a warm home and a family to snuggle up with. Jonty is sociable with other dogs, provided they aren't too boisterous around him. He's a gentleman who much prefers the quieter, more peaceful things in life. After all, he's earned the right to take things at his own pace! He really is an easy-going boy who doesn't ask for much, good food in his bowl, a warm comfy bed, gentle walks and plenty of fuss, a sofa to snuggle up on, most importantly, a family who will love and cherish him. Jonty is in his senior years, and he deserves so much more than spending this precious time in a shelter. He deserves to know what it feels like to be truly loved, to have a place where he belongs and to never have to worry about being abandoned again. Please, can we find this beautiful boy the loving retirement home he deserves? Someone out there must have room on their sofa and in their heart for Jonty. He has so much love left to give, and all he wants is someone to give his heart to. He is suitable to live with another dog and secondary school age children.

My personality...

- I know how to sit (and lots of other commands too!)
- I could live with children of secondary school age
- I may be able to live with another dog
- I can be left alone for short periods
- I'm quiet but full of love
- I love fuss and attention
