A little bit about Alexsi...

Alexsi is a lovely young lad who is looking for a loving new home, he is full of the joys of life and is always on the go looking for new things to do. He is extremely active, loves to play and just loves to live life to the max, Alexsi will benefit from some further training as he can get a bit giddy but he is only young and very eager to learn new things. Alexsi is good with other dogs, walks well on a lead but would need an adopter who will not leave him on his own as he has never been taught that it is ok to be left. We are looking for active adopters who will take him on long interesting walks and give him the exercise he needs to keep him stimulated. Alexsi is suitable to live with another dog and children aged 12 years and over.

My personality...

I know how to sit (and lots of other commands too!)

I can be left alone for short periods

I may be able to live with a friendly cat

I could live with children

I'm always on the go

I may be able to live with another dog
