A little bit about Oliver...

Oliver came to the centre via an inspector after he was found in appalling condition, this poor little guy was found abandoned in emaciated condition. Sadly he was found with another rabbit who sadly passed away, he is a pure gent. Oliver is such a friendly little guy who loves a fuss and a cuddle. Oliver has now made a full recovery from his ordeal and is ready to start his new life, we are looking for adopters who already have a spayed female rabbit for him to share his life with. He will need a minimum 6 ft hutch with a 8 ft run attached, staff will be happy to discuss alternative accommodation with potential adopters.

My personality...

I may be able to live with a female rabbit

I need to be able to go outside and explore

I could live with children

I like climbing onto your lap
